Space Hotel 2027

Staying at a nice hotel is fun!

But in just a few years some people could be staying at a nice hotel... in space!

Yeah! A space hotel is going to open in 2027!

You will be able to look out the window and see Earth far below you.

What a great view!

The space hotel will look like a Ferris wheel.

The hotel will spin like a Ferris wheel, and that will give the people inside some gravity so you won't fly away all the time.

But not too much gravity... it will still feel a little like floating, and the hotel wants to set up fun things to do... like basketball!

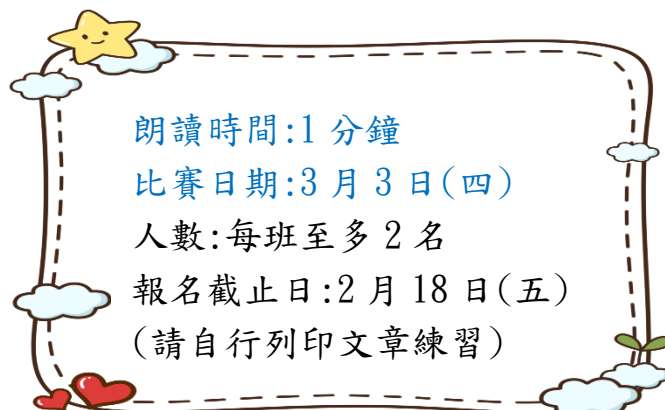

Can you imagine playing basketball with only a little gravity? You could jump super high and super far!

But.... there is one thing not so cool about the space hotel. It's going to be very expensive to go there. The cost for flying in a rocket and staying at the space hotel for three days is $140 million NT dollars!

Wow, 140 million?! Woah! Well, let's hope someday it gets cheaper.

Colors and Emotions

Do you have a favorite color?

I do...Blue!

And did you know?

Many, many, many people around the world also really like the color blue.

But why?

Well, scientists say blue can make people feel calm.

Hmmm...so colors can change the way we feel!

Blue could make you feel calm...but what if you want to feel happy or excited?

Try yellow or orange! If you're feeling a little sad...maybe try wearing a bright yellow or orange shirt!

Those bright colors could make you feel happier.

And guess what?

Scientists say sports teams wearing red uniforms win more games than teams wearing blue uniforms!

Red can make people feel excited ... and can give them energy!

I think that's pretty cool!

Different colors can make us feel different and act differently!
