Where Is My Broom

It is time to get up! Lizzy the witch puts on her dress. She puts on her boots. She puts on her hat. “Now I need my broom,” says Lizzy the witch. “But where is my broom?” Lizzy the witch looks in her closet. She looks behind her dresser. She looks under her bed. No broom!

“My broom must be in the kitchen,” says Lizzy the witch. She looks behind the stove. She looks in the cupboard. She looks under the table. No broom! Maybe the broom is in the living room. Lizzy the witch looks behind a chair. She looks under the sofa. She pulls up the rug. No broom!

Lizzy the witch looks behind the fence. She looks in the bushes. She looks up in the tree. No cat! No broom! She climbs the tree to the very top. She sees a nest of birds. But no cat! No broom! Something flies by!

“What is that?” says Lizzy the witch.

“Is it a bird? Is it a plane? Is it a rocket?”

“No! It is that cat on my broom! Come down here! Come now!” shouts Lizzy the witch.

Swoosh! Down comes that cat on the broom! He scoops up Lizzy the witch from the tree! She flies up in the air. She lands on the broom behind the cat. And they fly away together!

The Very Hungry Caterpillar

In the light of the moon, a little egg lay on a leaf. One Sunday morning, the warm sun came up and – pop! – out of the egg came a tiny and very hungry caterpillar. He started to look for some food.

On Monday, he ate through one apple. But he was still hungry. On Tuesday, he ate through two pears, but he was still hungry. On Wednesday, he ate through three plums, but he was still hungry. On Thursday, he ate through four strawberries, but he was still hungry. On Friday, he ate through five oranges, but he was still hungry.

On Saturday, he ate through one piece of chocolate cake, one ice cream cone, one pickle, one slice of Swiss cheese, one slice of salami, one lollipop, one piece of cherry pie, one sausage, one cupcake, and one slice of watermelon. That night, he had a stomachache!

The next day was Sunday again. The caterpillar ate through one nice green leaf, and after that he felt much better. Now he wasn't hungry anymore – and he wasn't a little caterpillar anymore. He was a big fat caterpillar. He built a small house, called a cocoon, around himself. He stayed inside for more than two weeks.

Then he nibbled a hole in the cocoon, pushed his way out and

He was a beautiful butterfly!
